

NFL 2006

It's a TIE! Lulu and Mudcat tied for the weekly win with 10 correct and a Monday night score of 42. They will share the prize. Loser of the week is Retired who submitted his picks but forgot to mark his choices, not to mention his name and Monday night score. Retired gets 1 less than the lowest of 4. Boocom retakes the lead, jumping 3 ahead of Scratch who followed up his winning week with a 4.

The Assistant Commish has a couple of issues with the way some of you submit your picks. If you do your picks on the computer please BOLD ("ctrl b" on your keyboard) your picks. If you just hilite them with a colour the colour might not print. Those of you who are still in the dark ages and use the fax please CIRCLE your picks, DO NOT USE "X" or check marks as these interfere with marking. I will not name names but a certain couple is too cheap to print out 2 pick sheets and submit them separately. Instead they just print one sheet and with various techniques that change week to week put both their picks on the same sheet. This causes unnecessary work for the Assistant Commish when marking. I will remind you that if you email your picks you should receive an automated reply that they have been received only if you have the words "Football Pool" in the subject line. This automated reply only tells you that the email has been received, it doesn't mean that your picks were submitted correctly or even filled out (see Retired above). Remember it is your responsibility to get your picks in on time not mine. Remember you can download the sheets from the internet @ <http://www.thepercys.com/football>.

Note: There is a new email address to send your picks!

You can submit your picks via :

Good Luck!
